

01 / STRATEGIC OBJECTIVE

SET PIECE PLAN

The objective is to translate available set-piece evidence into a short pre-match plan. The strongest signal is the contrast between Torino's moderate attacking output and Fiorentina's defensive vulnerability.

KEY PRE-MATCH CUES

1 Protect first contact on attacking free-kicks. 2 Track late arrivals and second-phase runners. 3 Attack Fiorentina's defensive set-piece weakness with high-quality delivery and coordinated movement.

OPPOSITION INTERPRETATION

3.84 corners for per match is below the Serie A team average of 4.41. The relevant threat is delivery quality, first contact and second-phase execution. For Fiorentina: prioritise first-contact protection and second-ball occupation.

MATCH EVIDENCE — 07/02/26

Torino had 4 corners at the Franchi. Kean's corner header required Paleari's intervention; Saúl Coco headed wide from another corner.

WHAT THE DATA SAYS

Torino conceded 11 set-piece goals in 2025/26, with 10.3 xG conceded. The last H2H showed Fiorentina producing 9 corners and repeatedly generating aerial situations. Recommended: near-post movement + central occupation + one player securing the second ball.

OPERATIONAL CUE

Do not evaluate Torino's free-kick threat only through direct shots. The last H2H demonstrated value from indirect delivery + late/hidden runner. Protect the goalkeeper's operating space and prepare for the second contact.

THE CLEAREST OPPORTUNITY

Fiorentina generated 12.9 set-piece xG in 2025/26 — one of the highest underlying totals — but scored only 5 set-piece goals. Defensively, they conceded 15 set-piece goals with 11.9 xG conceded. For Torino, this points to an opportunity: attack the quality of delivery and first contact.

PRE-MATCH SET PIECE PRIORITIES

- | | | |
|----|--------------|---|
| 01 | ATTACK | Create separation before delivery. Prioritise first contact + second ball against a defence that conceded 15 SP goals. |
| 02 | DEFEND | Control central aerial targets and late runners. Last H2H showed Torino can score from an indirect free-kick in added time. |
| 03 | SECOND PHASE | Keep clear central/edge-of-box occupation after the first duel. |
| 04 | DELIVERY | Vary near-post / central / far-post targets rather than repeating one zone. |
